

Igniting Writing Taster Session

Dear parent/guardian,

My name is Alex Baker and in collaboration with Wokingham Library I run a creative writing group called Igniting Writing for 11-18 year olds. The group's aim is to bring together young aspiring writers and help develop their storytelling and creative writing skills in a fun, relaxed environment. The staff at Reading School have very kindly invited Igniting Writing in to run a fantasy-themed 'taster session', giving pupils a chance to have a go at writing their own fantasy stories and share their ideas, as well as exploring some of the themes and ideas behind fantasy as a genre and trying out some exciting fantasy roleplay writing activities.

The Igniting Writing taster session will be held after school from 3:25pm to 4:30pm on Monday 4th March 2019 in the LRC. There's no required skill level, so novice or more experienced writers will all be able to get something out of it, and the session is also completely free, so you don't need to worry about paying.

To come to the taster session, please email Mrs Kesteven (lkesteven@reading-school.co.uk) to book a place.

If you want to find out more about Igniting Writing you can check the group out online, where I'll be happy to answer any questions you may have:
